75c, $1.00 and $1.25 Silks FOR 49c. a Yd.

THIS HAS BEEN, and still is, a big Silk Season. We have cut up more silks so far this spring than any two previous seasons combined, consequently we have a big accumulation of short ends from 2 to 10 yards, but enough in the majority of them for a Ladies' Waist or Child's Dress, and in a number of pieces enough for Ladies' Suits.

AT 49c. A YARD.

Thursday morning at 8 o'clock we will offer the entire lot, over 500 yards, to close out. Remember, the quantity is limited, and first come first served. Don't come a week from now and expect to find them here or you will be disappointed. The price is fixed so low for the quality of the goods that they will go out with a rush. Come early Thursday morning.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

A. R. Mackall Chooses and Beats a Small Boy.

MOTHER PLEADS FOR HER CHILD

Boldly Enters the Home of Mrs. Jennie Welch—The Trouble Caused by a Quarrel Between Two Boys—Gave Bond For Court.

Perhaps one of the most brutal and aggravated assaults perpetrated in the city for months was that which occurred at the residence of Mrs. Jennie Welch, corner of the alleys at the rear of the First Presbyterian church, last evening shortly after 4 o'clock, when A. R. Mackall brutally assaulted the little 13-year-old son of the lady.

The trouble was caused by a quarrel between the sons of Mackall and Mrs. Welch while returning from school. According to the injured boy's story, he was returning from school when the Mackall boy picked up a barrel stave and struck him on the leg. He resented the blow by slapping the face of his assailant. The boys then proceeded to their respective homes, and the Mackall boy informed his father of the occurrence. Mackall at once rushed to the residence of Mrs. Welch, and, according to her story, came into her house and grasped her son by the throat, choking him almost into insensibility, and bumped his head against the jam of the door. She said:

"I was seated in the doorway between the dining room and kitchen, and my son was leaning against the jam. I didn't notice Mackall until he came through the dining room with his hands uplifted and his face working with passion. He said: 'What did you hit my boy for,' and grasped my son by the throat and beat his head against the jam of the door, and while in his rage said, 'I'll kill you! I'll kill you! I'll kill you, if you don't leave my boy alone.' I pleaded with him to release his hold on the boy until I could speak to him, but he paid no attention to me, and dragged the boy across the room. I attempted to pull Mackall away from my son and he roughly pushed me against a table. I then cried for my brother, Jerry McMillan, saying, 'He's killing my boy.' Assistance finally came, but not until the boy was choked black and blue, with the skin torn from his neck and his head painfully bruised. My brother and Constable Bertele appeared on the scene, and I ordered the officer to arrest Mackall. This, Mr. Bertele was reluctant to do, as he was not sure that he was clothed with proper authority to make an arrest without a warrant. Mackall said: 'I don't care what it costs me. I'll do it again if he hurts my boy.' My son cannot pass the Mackall boy without being spat upon or hit with stones or clubs."

Mackall was arrested later in the evening on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Welch, and taken before Squire Manley. He waived a hearing and gave bond for his appearance at court.

THE UNIONIST

Succumbs After a Hard Struggle For Existence.

The Unionist, after months of trials and tribulations, finally bumped the wall yesterday, and the city is without an exclusively labor paper. The cause of the collapse is the usual one, financial embarrassment. The manager and devil were compelled to throw up their situations, owing to lack of funds in the coffers of the publisher, and the editor and proprietor was unable to do the work of the mechanical, managerial and editorial departments. Not wishing to have his dark locks turned to a silver gray, he decided to cease publication indefinitely. The proprietor claims that his publication did not receive the patronage it merited, and instead of getting out of the hole into which it was recently plunged, was crushed into deeper depths. Whether a new labor paper will be started is a matter of conjecture, but the fates of the People, Labor Local, Labor Local and Unionist, and the late Unionist, will not likely act as an incentive to a prospective publisher.

THE STREET SWEEPER.

Seventh Street Residents Would Like to See It.

The residents of Seventh street are complaining because they never receive any benefit from the street sweeper, which is supposed to be used on all of the paved streets. They say that since the purchase of this very useful apparatus it has been used on the street only once, and but for the fact that some of the residents are in the habit of cleaning the pavements in front of their homes, the street would be a sight to behold, and as it is, in many places it is by far the dirtiest in the city. They also claim that the street sprinkler is quite a novelty in that neighborhood, as it has been used the same number of times on the thoroughfare as the sweeper. The people think the street is worthy of at least some attention, as it is one of the most prominent residence streets in the city.

TO THE INFIRMARY.

Patrick Delaney Was Taken There Yesterday.

Patrick Delaney, aged 60 years, was taken to the infirmary yesterday afternoon by I. Burlingame, the township trustee, deciding that was the best place for him, as the old man had no one to take care of him. He was slightly demented and it was feared would do some harm if he was not watched. He made his home in a house on Railroad street, across from Cartwright's pottery, and was in the habit of doing strange things. On Monday night he got up out of bed and got the oil can and was pouring it in the stove preparing to build a fire, when he was discovered and stopped, or in a few minutes there would have been a blaze that would have been hard to extinguish without the aid of the fire department.

LOAFING ON THE STREETS.

Has Almost Become a Thing of the Past.

The amount of loafers on the streets have materially decreased in the past week, as the officers have followed out the policy of the new regime to the letter and have been unrelenting in their efforts to make a crowd move on wherever it was to be found. They have the warm thanks of the majority of the best citizens of the city for their labors. Last night it was a pleasure to walk around the principal streets, as every corner, where crowds have previously been in the habit of loafing, was empty; and a person was not compelled to almost get out in the street to get through them. It is to be hoped that this new order of things will not be allowed to die out, but will continue.

MARRIED AT SALINEVILLE.

Young Couple From This City United in Wedlock.

Mr. William Callahan, a popular young presser employed at the Dresden pottery, and Miss Mame Sweeney, also of this city, were quietly wedded in Salineville yesterday morning.

The young couple returned last night and were met by a large circle of acquaintances, who escorted them to a newly prepared home in the West End, and spent the evening in a pleasant manner, congratulations being showered upon the bridal couple.

Miss Maggie McCullough, formerly of this city, was married to E. Carten, of Salineville, at that place, on Tuesday. The young couple will go to housekeeping in Cleveland. They have many friends here who wish them much happiness.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

They Met Last Night and Elected Officers.

Typographical Union No. 318 met last night and transacted considerable business. The following officers were elected: President, John Haney; vice president, Fred Irwin; financial secretary, Charles W. Brownfield; treasurer, Lou Orr; recording secretary, Criss McConnell; sergeant at arms, William H. Carpenter; trustees, Leslie Trump, John Mayer, William H. Carpenter; delegates to trades council, Charles W. Brownfield, John Haney and John Mayer. Three applications for membership were received and voted upon favorably, Bessie Hanley, Henry Bullock and John Worcester, the latter as a two third member. After ordering a number of bills paid, the union adjourned.

ON A RAMPAGE.

Charles McGovern Breaks Over and Raises Cain.

Charles McGovern has broken over again. On Tuesday night he returned to the hospital where the trustees have been keeping him since he had his fingers mashed in an intoxicated condition. With his teeth he tore off the bandages from his swollen arm and otherwise proceeded to smash up things generally. He accidentally upset a lamp and set fire to the carpet, but the nurse, Mrs. Mary Pollock, hastily grasped a pitcher of water and dashed it on the fire, extinguishing the flames. Today the trustees told Charles to hunt a new boarding house.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Winnie Mercer Is Pitching Good Ball at Present.

NO BALL GAME FOR SATURDAY

Bert Irons Has Made Application For Membership in the Pittsburgh Athletic Club—The Wheeling Team Arrived on the Noon Train.

Winnie Mercer still continues to pitch good ball, and won the fourth game he has pitched this season for the Washington team yesterday. Their opponents were the Brooklyns, and the East Liverpool boy held them down to nine hits. Washington has won six games so far this season, and Mercer has been in the points in four of them. In speaking of his work yesterday the Times says: "Mercer was hit hard, but his support was of the phenomenal order, which prevented several runs." Of the same game the Dispatch says: "Mercer pitched excellent ball."

The East Liverpool baseball club will have no game here next week, as Manager Morris has given up the idea of securing a team for that day. After this week it is the intention of the manager of the team to have a game every Saturday while the season lasts.

The many friends of Professor Ferd Froehlich will be pleased to learn that he is at present instructor of gymnastics in the public schools of St. Louis. Mr. Froehlich was at one time the instructor of the Turners here, and has a host of friends who wish him success.

The Wheeling team arrived on the noon train, and are battling for supremacy with the Eclipse team this afternoon.

The Post says that Bert Irons, the fast distance rider, of last year's Beaver Falls Cyclers, has sent in his application for membership to the Pittsburgh Athletic club, and that he is considered the best five mile rider in the state. Irons was last year a member of the Ceramic City Cycle club, of this city.

The Eclipse football team will start practice the latter part of July, and will get to work in earnest, as Captain Snediker is determined to have no sluggards on the team. The players will be divided into two teams at the start of the season, and will play against each other every evening, no doubt attracting a large number of spectators to see them practice. All the plays that they were weak last year will be practiced thoroughly until the boys are adept at the work. As a large number have made applications for a place on the team, it will require steady work to become a member.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY.

Had the Boy Been Nearer he Would Have Been Killed.

Last evening as a boy named Smith was playing in the gutter on Fourth street between Market and Jackson, James Walters came by driving a horse hitched to a sulky and leading a colt. As they passed the boy the colt whirled and kicked, striking him on the jaw. He was picked up by George Adam in an unconscious state, and carried into an adjoining house, where restoratives were applied for 15 minutes before he showed any signs of life. A physician was sent for, and several stitches were taken in the wound, which was almost an inch and a quarter in length. The boy was then taken to his home in the alley between Third and Fourth streets, where he is today resting easy, feeling no ill effects from his accident other than having a sore jaw. The cork of the shoe hit the boy, and had he been a few inches closer he would have received the full force of the blow, which would have undoubtedly killed him.

SMALL STRIKE.

Diggers Quit For a Short Time This Morning.

The workmen engaged in loading flat cars with dirt at the loop in the East End, for the filling in of the street car trestle, quit work this morning. One of the employees, Harry Hamilton, told the rest of his fellow laborers that he had it from good authority that Superintendent Andrews was only going to pay them $1.25 a day for their labor, and that 10 cents was to be deducted from this amount for street car fare. Accepting these statements as truth the men ceased work at once. The superintendent was notified, and replying to the scene of the trouble told the men that he would pay them $1.35 a day and two street car checks for fare, this being equivalent to $1.45, as he had agreed to do formerly. The men immediately resumed work and Hamilton was discharged.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

The McKinley boom has not been sectional. It has developed everywhere. The Ohio man is second choice with nearly all the delegates, something unusual for the leading candidate. Under such conditions it seems as if nothing that can now be foreseen can prevent Ohio's candidate from being the choice of the convention.—Kansas City World.

According to General Grosvenor's figures, McKinley lacks but twelve delegates of having enough votes to nominate him, and there are more than 200 yet to be selected. Mr. McKinley is living on Easy street just now.—Toledo Blade.

With the nomination of McKinley practically assured, the question of the identity of his running mate will next command attention. There are a number of "favorite sons" who are posing for the lightning.—Ohio State Journal.

Quay in the field, Pennsylvania will stand firm under his banner; but he being withdrawn, the Keystone delegates would flock to McKinley.—Delaware county, Pa., Republican.

The manner in which delegates are being instructed for McKinley is very annoying to Platt, Quay, et al, but the people know a good thing when they see it.—Youngstown Telegram.

They say the Quay boomers will have silver platters for their emblem at St. Louis. The McKinley men will use their tin cans on 'em!—Pittsburgh Times.

THE FINE PAID.

And Lizzie Was Saved a Trip to the Workhouse.

Lizzie Brighthouse will not go to the works, leastwise not just now. The mayor arraigned her yesterday afternoon and she pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, and a fine of $9.75 was imposed upon her, which was paid by some benefactor upon a promise from Lizzie to leave the city and hereafter behave herself.

Alex Lowery and Oliver Starkey were committed to the probate judge yesterday afternoon, and taken to Lisbon this morning.

The two lads, John Bradley and Sam Myler, were released. It was found that Bradley was over 14 years of age, and consequently beyond the age required by law to attend school. The father of the Myler lad appeared and promised to compel his son to attend school in the future, therefore the charge against the lad was withdrawn. Young Starkey exhibited a murderous disposition, and threatened to shoot Truant Officer Beardmore.

EGYPTIAN POTTERY.

Fragments of Ware Found That Was Manufactured Centuries Ago.

An exchange says: "In digging out the colossal statue of Ramesses II., nine feet and four inches of Nile mud had to be removed before the platform was reached. It is known that this platform was laid in the year 1361 B. C., when Ramesses was still living. Therefore three and one-half inches of accumulated Nile mud represents the lapse of a century, it being known that 3,200 years have passed since the platform was put down. Under that platform was found 30 feet more of Nile mud before the original sandy soil was reached, hence many years must have elapsed from the time of the Nile's first overflow down to the time of Ramesses II. The curious part of the story is this: Pottery and fragments of the same were found on the original sandy soil 30 feet under the base of the statue, which would seem to indicate that the Egyptians understood the potter's art at a very early date."

UNSUCCESSFUL.

Was the Search by a Maiden for a Recreant Lover.

The auburn haired maiden who left the city a few days since in search of her false lover, who cruelly deserted her on the eve of their marriage, has returned home. She was unable to find any trace of the missing groom prospective. Her trip, however, was not utterly devoid of results. She succeeded in arousing the sympathies of an unsuspecting young man, into whose ears she poured the heartrending story of her cruel desertion. In order to solace her, the young man accompanied the maid, who has proved herself a master hand at procuring marriage licenses, to this city, and at present he is domiciled at her home.

A RESTRAINING ORDER

A Wellsville Man Has a Grievance Against the Village.

TEBBUT IS ORDERED TO APPEAR

Before Court on Saturday and Bring the Books of the Potters' Protective Association For Examination—Liverpool Real Estate Transfers—Court News.

LISBON, April 30.—Louis H. Trotter has a grievance against the city of Wellsville and applied to the court last night for relief. Trotter owns property in Wellsville, and sometime ago he was ordered by the council to lay a walk around his premises, which he did. The authorities of the city now threaten to tear this up and take possession of about 20 feet of his land, without any right or authority by law. It was claimed that council wishes to change the boundary location of a street by this, but have not taken the necessary steps as required by law. The proposed change, according to Trotter's views, is entirely unnecessary, and the damage it would work to him and his property would be irreparable. He asks for a temporary restraining order, but the case has been assigned for hearing one week from next Monday.

The firm of Snow, Church & Co., who during the February term of court recovered a judgment against W. Tuxford Tebbut, of East Liverpool, for $172.75, have begun proceedings in aid of execution in the probate court to recover the amount, which they have been unable so far to do. The court has ordered Tebbut to appear on Saturday to be orally examined concerning his property, and to bring with him, for examination by the court, the day books, ledgers, collection dockets, etc., of the Potters' Protective association.

Eliza J. Chaney, administratrix of the estate of the late William M. Chaney, of Wellsville, began proceedings asking for a sale of lot 8 in Silver's addition to Wellsville in order to pay off the indebtedness of the estate.

The application to probate the will of the late Amanda M. Hamilton, of Wellsville, was heard and the will admitted.

F. J. Firestone was appointed trustee in the assignment of John P. Neill, of Elkrun township, to succeed D. W. Firestone, who was the assignee.

The following real estate transfers at East Liverpool were recorded:

Will L. Thompson and wife to Elizabeth E. Stewart, lot in Thompson's addition to Gardendale, a suburb of East Liverpool, $355.

Theodore R. Bradshaw to Virinda E. Hill, lot in Bradshaw's addition, $550.

W. C. Reed and wife to John Schmelzenbach, lot in McDonald's second addition to East Liverpool, $50.

Robert Hall and wife to the East Liverpool Ice company, six acres in Liverpool township, $2,100.

Jason H. Brookes, assignee, to Lizzie J. Owen, seven lots in Bradshaw's addition, $1,015.

John Horwell, administrator, to G. P. Kirk, 22 lots in Burgess, Harrison & Kirk's addition to East Liverpool, also 144 acres of land, $1,566.

John Ryan and others to Michael V. and Patrick Ryan, lot in East Liverpool, $3,900.

Eugene Bradshaw and wife to Virinda E. Hill, lot in Bradshaw's addition, $550.

"KEPT BUSY."

The Mayor Issued a Number of Vehicle Licenses Yesterday.

The mayor was busily engaged this morning issuing licenses to owners of vehicles. This being the last day that they may be taken out without being subjected to the payment of a fine, the mayor's court was thronged. Owners of private vehicles are obligated to place a plate, purchased at a cost of 10 cents from the mayor, on their conveyances. On wagons, etc., the number painted in figures one and one-half inches in length is required. There was a movement on foot among a number of teamsters to rebel against the new edict, but after one meeting the agitation was finally dropped.

Wants to Play Blindfold.

Word was received from James P. Reed this morning by the Young Men's Christian association boys that he would like to play checkers blindfold on Friday night against all the checker players in the city. They are to consult with each other and are permitted to look at the board all the time, while Mr. Reed will never have a glance at it, but will play entirely from memory.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY.

Had the Boy Been Nearer he Would Have Been Killed.

Last evening as a boy named Smith was playing in the gutter on Fourth street between Market and Jackson, James Walters came by driving a horse hitched to a sulky and leading a colt. As they passed the boy the colt whirled and kicked, striking him on the jaw. He was picked up by George Adam in an unconscious state, and carried into an adjoining house, where restoratives were applied for 15 minutes before he showed any signs of life. A physician was sent for, and several stitches were taken in the wound, which was almost an inch and a quarter in length. The boy was then taken to his home in the alley between Third and Fourth streets, where he is today resting easy, feeling no ill effects from his accident, other than having a sore jaw. The cork of the shoe hit the boy, and had he been a few inches fuller he would have received the full force of the blow, which would have undoubtedly killed him.

SMALL STRIKE.

Diggers Quit For a Short Time This Morning.

The workmen engaged in loading flat cars with dirt at the loop in the East End, for the filling in of the street car trestle, quit work this morning. One of the employees, Harry Hamilton, told the rest of his fellow laborers that he had it from good authority that Superintendent Andrews was only going to pay them $1.25 a day for their labor, and that 10 cents was to be deducted from this amount for street car fare. Accepting these statements as truth the men ceased work at once. The superintendent was notified, and replying to the scene of the trouble told the men that he would pay them $1.35 a day and two street car checks for fare, this being equivalent to $1.45, as he had agreed to do formerly. The men immediately resumed work and Hamilton was discharged.

More Kind Words For America's Next President.

The McKinley boom has not been sectional. It has developed everywhere. The Ohio man is second choice with nearly all the delegates, something unusual for the leading candidate. Under such conditions it seems as if nothing that can now be foreseen can prevent Ohio's candidate from being the choice of the convention.—Kansas City World.

According to General Grosvenor's figures, McKinley lacks but twelve delegates of having enough votes to nominate him, and there are more than 200 yet to be selected. Mr. McKinley is living on Easy street just now.—Toledo Blade.

With the nomination of McKinley practically assured, the question of the identity of his running mate will next command attention. There are a number of "favorite sons" who are posing for the lightning.—Ohio State Journal.

Quay in the field, Pennsylvania will stand firm under his banner; but he being withdrawn, the Keystone delegates would flock to McKinley.—Delaware county, Pa., Republican.

The manner in which delegates are being instructed for McKinley is very annoying to Platt, Quay, et al, but the people know a good thing when they see it.—Youngstown Telegram.

They say the Quay boomers will have silver platters for their emblem at St. Louis. The McKinley men will use their tin cans on 'em!—Pittsburg Times.

THE FINE PAID.

And Lizzie Was Saved a Trip to the Workhouse.

Lizzie Brighouse will not go to the works, leastwise not just now. The mayor arraigned her yesterday afternoon and she pled guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, and a fine of $9.75 was imposed upon her, which was paid by some benefactor upon a promise from Lizzie to leave the city and hereafter behave herself.

Alex Lowery and Oliver Starkey were committed to the probate judge yesterday afternoon, and taken to Lisbon this morning.

The two lads, John Bradley and Sam Myler, were released. It was found that Bradley was over 14 years of age, and consequently beyond the age required by law to attend school. The father of the Myler lad appeared and promised to compel his son to attend school in the future, therefore the charge against the lad was withdrawn. Young Starkey exhibited a murderous disposition, and threatened to shoot Truant Officer Beardmore.

EGYPTIAN POTTERY.

Fragments of Ware Found That Were Manufactured Centuries Ago.

An exchange says: "In digging out the colossal statue of Rameses II., nine feet and four inches of Nile mud had to be removed before the platform was reached. It is known that this platform was laid in the year 1361 B. C., when Rameses was still living. Therefore three and one-half inches of accumulated Nile mud represents the lapse of a century, it being known that 3,200 years have passed since the platform was put down. Under that platform was found 30 feet more of Nile mud before the original sandy soil was reached, hence many years must have elapsed from the time of the Nile's first overflow down to the time of Rameses II. The curious part of the story is this: Pottery and fragments of the same were found on the base of the statue, which would seem to indicate that the Egyptians understood the potter's art at a very early date."

UNSUCCESSFUL.

Was the Search by a Maiden for a Recalcitrant Lover.

The auburn haired maiden who left the city a few days since in search of her false lover, who cruelly deserted her on the eve of their marriage, has returned home. She was unable to find any trace of the missing groom prospective. Her trip, however, was not utterly devoid of results. She succeeded in arousing the sympathies of an unsuspecting young man, into whose ears she poured the heartrending story of her cruel desertion. In order to solace her, the young man accompanied the maid, who has proved herself a master hand at procuring marriage licenses, to this city, and at present he is domiciled at her home.

A RESTRAINING ORDER

A Wellsville Man Has a Grievance Against the Village.

TEBBUT IS ORDERED TO APPEAR

Before Court on Saturday and Bring the Books of the Potters' Protective Association For Examination—Liverpool Real Estate Transfers—Court News.

LISBON, April 30.—Louis H. Trotter has a grievance against the city of Wellsville and applied to the court last night for relief. Trotter owns property in Wellsville, and sometime ago he was ordered by the council to lay a walk around his premises, which he did. The authorities of the city now threaten to tear this up and take possession of about 20 feet of his land, without any right or authority by law. It was claimed that council wishes to change the boundary location of a street by this, but have not taken the necessary steps as required by law. The proposed change, according to Trotter's views, is entirely unnecessary, and the damage it would work to him and his property would be irreparable. He asks for a temporary restraining order, but the case has been assigned for hearing one week from next Monday.

The firm of Snow, Church & Co., who during the February term of court recovered a judgment against W. Tuxford Tebbut, of East Liverpool, for $172.75, have begun proceedings in aid of execution in the probate court to recover the amount, which they have been unable so far to do. The court has ordered Tebbut to appear on Saturday to be orally examined concerning his property, and to bring with him, for examination by the court, the day books, ledgers, collection dockets, etc., of the Potters' Protective association.

Eliza J. Chaney, administratrix of the estate of the late William M. Chaney, of Wellsville, began proceedings asking for a sale of lot 8 in Silver's addition to Wellsville in order to pay off the indebtedness of the estate.

The application to probate the will of the late Amanda M. Hamilton, of Wellsville, was heard and the will admitted.

F. J. Firestone was appointed trustee in the assignment of John P. Neill, of Elkrun township, to succeed D. W. Firestone, who was the assignee.

The following real estate transfers at East Liverpool were recorded: Will L. Thompson and wife to Elizabeth E. Stewart, lot in Thompson's addition to Gardendale, a suburb of East Liverpool, $355.

Theodore R. Bradshaw to Virinda E. Hill, lot in Bradshaw's addition, $550.

W. C. Reed and wife to John Schmelenbach, lot in McDonald's second addition to East Liverpool, $50. Robert Hall and wife to the East Liverpool Ice company, six acres in Liverpool township, $2,100.

Jason H. Brookes, assignee, to Lizzie J. Owen, seven lots in Bradshaw's addition, $1,015.

John Horwell, administrator, to G. P. Kirk, 22 lots in Burgess, Harrison & Kirk's addition to East Liverpool, also 144 acres of land, $1,566.

John Ryan and others to Michael V. and Patrick Ryan, lot in East Liverpool, $3,900.

Eugene Bradshaw and wife to Virinda E. Hill, lot in Bradshaw's addition, $550.

KEPT BUSY.

The Mayor Issued a Number of Vehicle Licenses Yesterday.

The mayor was busily engaged this morning issuing licenses to owners of vehicles. This being the last day that they may be taken out without being subjected to the payment of a fine, the mayor's court was thronged. Owners of private vehicles are obligated to place a plate, purchased at a cost of 10 cents from the mayor, on their conveyances. On wagons, etc., the number painted in figures one and one-half inches in length is required. There was a movement on foot among a number of teamsters to rebel against the new edict, but after one meeting the agitation was finally dropped.

WANTS TO PLAY BLINDFOLD.

Word was received from James P. Reed this morning by the Young Men's Christian association boys that he would like to play checkers blindfold on Friday night against all the checker players in the city. They are to consult with each other and are permitted to look at the board all the time, while Mr. Reed will never have a glance at it, but will play entirely from memory.

CITY POLICE.

It is the bounden duty of every good citizen to aid these officers in the enforcement of the laws and ordinances regulating the municipality.

If an officer has the assurance that he will be backed up in the performance of his duty, he will do his utmost, if at all fitted for the position, to attend to that duty; and if he is a failure under such circumstances and surroundings, then he should be relieved and an honest man put in his place.

The indications are that we now have good men on the force. The only drawback in the past has been the fear, in the mind of the roundsmen, that strict attention to business and the rigid enforcement of the ordinances would result in a combination of forces against them, and eventually their dismissal from the force. This day has departed from East Liverpool.

If straws indicate the direction of the wind, then the indications are that the officials of the city, backed by a large majority of the resident voters, are determined that the statutes controlling the municipality were made to be and shall be enforced. One of the police of the city was evidently acting under this impression last night, as he made it his business to keep street corner loafers on the jump, and did not permit them to make life a burden to respectable citizens, as they have been accustomed to do in the past. Let the good work continue, members of council, mayor and marshal, and let the roundsmen be commended and upheld in the performance of their duty, enforced in an officer-like and gentlemanly manner, yet firm and decisive, and all good citizens will stand by you through thick and thin.

YOUNG OFFENDERS.

It is a sorry sight to see even a man confined behind prison bars, deprived of liberty and its blessedness; but it is indeed a pitiable sight to see mere boys under such circumstances. Four youngsters, the eldest about fourteen years old, and the other three ranging from ten to twelve years, were in the lockup yesterday afternoon,
charged with playing "hooky" from school and general bad conduct. One of the number was released last evening through the intercession of his mother, and at a late hour, the father
of one of the youngsters of the quar-
tette had his son released, under the solemn promise on the part of the boy that he would behave himself and go to school in the future. This boy is a bright lad, and should make his mark as a man, if his mind and life
could be guided in the right channel.
His mother stated to the writer that
he is almost absolutely incorrigible
and that she has used every effort to
have him attend school, but in vain,
and the father, a clever gentleman,
backs this statement up. The lad will be given another opportunity to
reform, and in case of bad conduct,
will be sent to the reform school at Lancaster. Another boy, young Starkey, stated that his mother is dead, and that he had no chance to go to school, as his father made him
remain at home and do the house-
work. The youngster cried bitterly, as he made his plea that he should not be punished for not going to school, as it was not his fault, and
that he had pleaded with his father
that he might have a chance for education. Young Starkey is the boy who was at Fairmount Home, Alliance,
made his escape therefrom, and
succeeded in reaching his home in East Liverpool. His story should be taken with a grain of allowance.

MACKALL'S CASE.

In another column of today's issue we give Mrs. Welsh's account of the assault upon her boy by Attorney A.
R. Mackall. There are always two sides to the account of a difficulty of this nature, and Mackall's account will be given, judging by the present aspect of affairs, before the court at Lisbon. His son is a mere child, and very much smaller and younger than is young Welsh, and the father was no doubt very angry when he heard that the Welsh boy had slapped his child in the face, and he allowed his anger to have full sway and control, as is shown by him daring to invade a private home and wreak his vengeance upon the person of a mere boy, absolutely helpless in the grasp and clutch of a strong man. If Mrs. Welsh's story is true; if Mackall throttled her boy and abused him in the manner

she describes; if he refused to relinquish his hold upon the lad's throat, and violently pushed her aside when her mother's love caused her to attempt a rescue by words and deeds;
if he dragged the boy through the sitting room, still holding him by the throat and beat his head against the door of the second room, and only relinquished his hold when the mother, rendered desperate by the look upon her boy's face, placed her hands upon Mackall's throat and pushed him back, until he was compelled to loose his hold upon the boy's throat; if, we say, these statements are true, and the mother will make oath that they are, then was Mackall's attack upon young Welsh about as cowardly a thing as a grown man, brawny and strong, could well be guilty of, and the law should give him the very heaviest penalty that can be inflicted.
It is a serious act, under the law, for a man to assault and abuse a child, even upon the streets; but it becomes a very much more serious offense when the assailant invades the sanctity of a home, and in violation of all law, human or divine, takes upon himself the wreaking of vengeance, in consequence of either a real or fancied grievance, and an attorney, knowing the law, is less excusable than one who knows not the law.

The Honeymoon.

In reference to the honeymoon, as to other matters, people's opinions differ according to their temperaments and circumstances. We shall quote two nearly opposite opinions and ask our readers to decide for themselves.

In the "Memoir of Daniel Maomil-lan" his opinion is thus stated: "That going out for the honeymoon is a most wise and useful invention. It enables you to be so constantly together, and to obtain a deeper knowledge of each other, and it also helps one to see and feel the preciousness of such intimacy as nothing else could. Intercourse in the presence of others never leads below the surface, and it is in the very depths of our being that true calm, deep and true peace and love lie. Nothing so well prepares for the serious duties of after life."

"As to long honeymoons," says the bishop of Rochester, "most sensible people have come utterly to disbelieve in them. They are a forced homage to utterly false ideas. They are a waste of money at a moment when every shilling is wanted for more pressing objects.
They are a loss of time, which soon comes to be dreary and weary. Most of all, they are a risk for love, which ought not so soon to be so unpleasantly tested by the inevitable petulances of a secret enmity."—London Tit-Bits.

Eve Was Two Hundred Feet High.

The Talmud says (see Baring-Gould's
"Legends of the Patriarchs and Prophets") that Adam was so tall he "could stand with his feet on the earth and his head in heaven," and that "God pressed him down at the time of the fall." The Arabs say that Adam was 312 feet high, and that Eve was exactly 200 feet from the soles of her feet to the crown of her head. These same people also claim that Eve's tomb may now be seen at Jiddah, a seaport of Mecca, and that its great size (206½ feet in length and 17½ in breadth) bears them out in the assertion that she was the most gigantic woman the earth has ever known or will ever know. On each 8d of June, the anniversary of the death of Abel,
according to Arabian tradition, the door of the temple which has been built at the entrance to this gigantic tomb of our first mother stays open all night in spite of the efforts of the keepers to close it, and the most terrible cries of anguish issue from the sepulcher of the giantess, who has been sleeping more than 6,000 years.—St. Louis Republic.

of the number was released last evening through the intercession of his mother, and at a late hour, the father
of one of the youngsters of the quar-
tette had his son released, under the
solemn promise on the part of the
boy that he would behave himself and
go to school in the future. This boy is
a bright lad, and should make his
mark as a man, if his mind and life
could be guided in the right channel.
His mother stated to the writer that
he is almost absolutely incorrigible
and that she has used every effort to
have him attend school, but in vain,
and the father, a clever gentleman,
backs this statement up. The lad
will be given another opportunity to
reform, and in case of bad conduct,
will be sent to the reform school at Lancaster. Another boy, young Starkey, stated that his mother is
dead, and that he had no chance to
go to school, as his father made him
remain at home and do the house-
work. The youngster cried bitterly,
as he made his plea that he should
not be punished for not going to
school, as it was not his fault, and
that he had pleaded with his father
that he might have a chance for education. Young Starkey is the boy
who was at Fairmount Home, Alliance,
made his escape therefrom, and
succeeded in reaching his home in East Liverpool. His story should be taken with a grain of allowance.

It is a sorry sight to see even a man
confined behind prison bars, deprived

indeed a pitiable sight to see mere

the lockup yesterday afternoon,
charged with playing "hooky" from

CITY POLICE.

It is the bounden duty of every good citizen to aid these officers in the enforcement of the laws and ordinances regulating the municipality. If an officer has the assurance that he will be backed up in the performance of his duty, he will do his utmost, if at all fitted for the position, to attend to that duty; and if he is a failure under such circumstances and surroundings, then he should be relieved and an honest man put in his place. The indications are that we now have good men on the force. The only drawback in the past has been the fear, in the mind of the roundsmen, that strict attention to business and the rigid enforcement of the ordinances would result in a combination of forces against them, and eventually their dismissal from the force. This day has departed from East Liverpool. If straws indicate the direction of the wind, then the indications are that the officials of the city, backed by a large majority of the resident voters, are determined that the statutes controlling the municipality were made to be and shall be enforced. One of the police of the city was evidently acting under this impression last night, as he made it his business to keep street corner loafers on the jump, and did not permit them to make life a burden to respectable citizens, as they have been accustomed to do in the past. Let the good work continue, members of council, mayor and marshal, and let the roundsmen be commended and upheld in the performance of their duty, enforced in an officer-like and gentlemanly manner, yet firm and decisive, and all good citizens will stand by you through thick and thin.

YOUNG OFFENDERS.

It is a sorry sight to see even a man confined behind prison bars, deprived of liberty and its blessedness; but it is indeed a pitiable sight to see mere boys under such circumstances. Four youngsters, the eldest about fourteen years old, and the other three ranging from ten to twelve years, were in the lockup yesterday afternoon, charged with playing "hooky" from school and general bad conduct. One of the number was released last evening through the intercession of his mother, and at a late hour, the father of one of the youngsters of the quartette had his son released, under the solemn promise on the part of the boy that he would behave himself and go to school in the future. This boy is a bright lad, and should make his mark as a man, if his mind and life could be guided in the right channel. His mother stated to the writer that he is almost absolutely incorrigible and that she has used every effort to have him attend school, but in vain, and the father, a clever gentleman, backs this statement up. The lad will be given another opportunity to reform, and in case of bad conduct, will be sent to the reform school at Lancaster. Another boy, young Starkey, stated that his mother is dead, and that he had no chance to go to school, as his father made him remain at home and do the housework. The youngster cried bitterly, as he made his plea that he should not be punished for not going to school, as it was not his fault, and that he had pleaded with his father that he might have a chance for education. Young Starkey is the boy who was at Fairmount Home, Alliance, made his escape therefrom, and succeeded in reaching his home in East Liverpool. His story should be taken with a grain of allowance.

MACKALL'S CASE.

In another column of today's issue we give Mrs. Welsh's account of the assault upon her boy by Attorney A. R. Mackall. There are always two sides to the account of a difficulty of this nature, and Mackall's account will be given, judging by the present aspect of affairs, before the court at Lisbon. His son is a mere child, and very much smaller and younger than is young Welsh, and the father was no doubt very angry when he heard that the Welsh boy had slapped his child in the face, and he allowed his anger to have full sway and control, as is shown by him daring to invade a private home and wreak his vengeance upon the person of a mere boy, absolutely helpless in the grasp and clutch of a strong man. If Mrs. Welsh's story is true; if Mackall throttled her boy and abused him in the manner she describes; if he refused to relinquish his hold upon the lad's throat, and violently pushed her aside when her mother's love caused her to attempt a rescue by words and deeds; if he dragged the boy through the sitting room, still holding him by the throat and beat his head against the door of the second room, and only relinquished his hold when the mother, rendered desperate by the look upon her boy's face, placed her hands upon Mackall's throat and pushed him back, until he was compelled to loose his hold upon the boy's throat; if, we say, these statements are true, and the mother will make oath that they are, then was Mackall's attack upon young Welsh about as cowardly a thing as a grown man, brawny and strong, could well be guilty of, and the law should give him the very heaviest penalty that can be inflicted. It is a serious act, under the law, for a man to assault and abuse a child, even upon the streets; but it becomes a very much more serious offense when the assailant invades the sanctity of a home, and, in violation of all law, human or divine, takes upon himself the wreaking of vengeance, in consequence of either a real or fancied grievance, and an attorney, knowing the law, is less excusable than one who knows not the law.

The Honeymoon.

In reference to the honeymoon, as to other matters, people's opinions differ according to their temperaments and circumstances. We shall quote two nearly opposite opinions and ask our readers to decide for themselves. In the "Memoir of Daniel Macmillan" his opinion is thus stated: "That going out for the honeymoon is a most wise and useful invention. It enables you to be so constantly together, and to obtain a deeper knowledge of each other, and it also helps one to see and feel the preciousness of such intimacy as nothing else could. Intercourse in the presence of others never leads below the surface, and it is in the very depths of our being that true calm, deep and true peace and love lie. Nothing so well prepares for the serious duties of after life." "As to long honeymoons," says the bishop of Rochester, "most sensible people have come utterly to disbelieve in them. They are a forced homage to utterly false ideas. They are a waste of money at a moment when every shilling is wanted for more pressing objects. They are a loss of time, which soon comes to be dreary and weary. Most of all, they are a risk for love, which ought not so soon to be so unpleasantly tested by the inevitable petulations of a secret ennui."—London Tit-Bits.

Eve Was Two Hundred Feet High.

The Talmud says (see Baring-Gould's "Legends of the Patriarchs and Prophets") that Adam was so tall he "could stand with his feet on the earth and his head in heaven," and that "God pressed him down at the time of the fall." The Arabs say that Adam was 312 feet high, and that Eve was exactly 200 feet from the soles of her feet to the crown of her head. These same people also claim that Eve's tomb may now be seen at Jiddah, a seaport of Mecca, and that its great size (208½ feet in length and 17½ in breadth) bears them out in the assertion that she was the most gigantic woman the earth has ever known or will ever know. On each 3d of June, the anniversary of the death of Abel, according to Arabian tradition, the door of the temple which has been built at the entrance to this gigantic tomb of our first mother stays open all night in spite of the efforts of the keepers to close it, and the most terrible cries of anguish issue from the sepulcher of the giantess, who has been sleeping more than 6,000 years.—St. Louis Republic.

PATTISON ENDORSED.

Pennsylvania Democrats Name
Him For the Presidency.

EVERYTHING HE ASKED FOR HE GOT AT THE CONVENTION—UNIT RULE AND SOUND MONEY DECLARED FOR IN THE PLATFORM
THE DELEGATES AND NOMINEES.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 30.—Robert Emory Pattison has been unanimously and enthusiastically endorsed as the choice of the Democracy of Pennsylvania for the presidential nomination at Chicago. The sound-money gold-standard platform, provided for him to go before the people upon, pledges the 64 delegates chosen to earnestly support Mr. Pattison.

National Chairman William F. Harty achieved a personal triumph second only to that of Mr. Pattison. Everything he asked for he got, and his "unit rule" instructing the delegates to Chicago to abide by the will of the majority, went through with even less opposition than had been expected. The delegates made almost a hero of Mr. Harty, besieging him with their attentions whenever he appeared in public.

State Chairman Wright called the convention to order. William E. Given of Columbia was chosen temporary chairman. Mr. Given's speech was wildly cheered, especially his reference to ex-Governor Pattison as Pennsylvania's candidate for the presidency.

Dwight M. Lowrey of Delaware was made permanent chairman and accepted the honor in a ringing speech.

The following nominations were made:

Congress-at-large—John M. Braden, Washington county; Benjamin C. Potts, Delaware county.

Delegates-at-large—William F. Harty, Philadelphia; Robert E. Wright, Lehigh; J. Henry Cochran, Lycoming; Charles A. Fagan, Allegheny; Dr. John Todd, Montgomery; Benjamin F. Meyers, Dauphin; John S. Rilling, Erie; John T. Lenahan, Luzerne.

The platform adopted reads as follows:

The Democracy of Pennsylvania, by its representatives assembled, declares its adherence to the fundamental principles it has taught and enforced from the foundation of the government, and which it believes are essential to the continuance of our system of free popular institutions. It declares for a strict construction of all constitutional grants of power to the federal government that infringe upon the rights of communities or the liberty of the citizens for a liberal interpretation of all reservations of rights to the people; for home rule, and against the centralization of power; for freedom of thought, and against all proscription for religious opinions; against needless sumptuary legislation and for the largest measure of liberty to individuals consistent with the enforcement of law and order; the preservation of rights of persons and property, and the maintenance of government. It believes that federal taxation, whatever form, is justifiable only to the extent that may be needful for the maintenance of government, honestly and economically administered, within the sphere of granted powers.

It is opposed to all schemes of taxation that bear unequally upon individuals, or that tend to increase the profits of the few at the expense of the many, or to impose upon the few those burdens of government which should be borne by all alike. The Democratic party has fulfilled the pledge under which it was entrusted with power, relieving the people from unjust and oppressive taxation, and by the enactment of a tariff for purposes of revenue, framed on constitutional lines. We are opposed to any backward step in the reform thus accomplished.

We demand an utterly unworthy confidence of the people, a party whose representatives and senators in congress deliberately determined and publicly proclaimed it to be their policy to do nothing for the relief of the financial condition of the government and the people.

We demand a repeal of all laws authorizing the issue or resale of greenbacks and treasury notes of doubtful constitutionality, originally issued under the plea of military necessity and under a pledge of early withdrawal. They are a constant menace of financial disaster and national dishonor. They should have no place in the currency of the country. We believe that the federal government should be entirely divorced from the business of banking, and that congress should enact such legislation as will give to the country a banking currency ample in volume for the needs of business, absolutely secure under every contingency, and at all times redeemable in gold.

We are in favor of a firm, unvarying maintenance of the gold standard. While we favor the most liberal use of silver, consistent with the enforcement of a gold standard, we are absolutely opposed to the free coinage of silver and to the compulsory purchase of silver bullion by the government.

We believe that the interests of the people demand that the earnings of trade, agricultural, manufacturing and commerce, and especially the wages of labor should be paid in money of the greatest intrinsic value and of the highest standard adopted by the civilized nations of the world. We are, therefore, unalterably opposed to all devices and schemes for the debasement of our currency and to all evasions and compromises of a question so closely affecting individual and national credit and honor.

We heartily endorse the administration of President Cleveland and congratulate the country upon the firmness, wisdom and ability shown by him in all matters affecting the interests of the country. We especially commend his wise, determined and successful efforts to maintain the national credit, to avert financial and business disturbance and to protect the country's honor.

We refer with sorrow and shame to the reckless prodigality with which the late Republican legislature, supported by the Republican state administration, has squandered the moneys of the people. The multiplication of offices for no other purpose than to pension professional politicians, the unnecessary increase in the salaries of state officials at the expense of appropriations to worthy public purposes, the abuse of the power of the state in the promotion of interests of a political faction, are matters of record which form an indelible stain upon the administration in Pennsylvania that should be tried in the forum of the political conscience of the state.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania presents to the national convention as its unanimous choice for the presidency the name of Robert E. Pattison. Twice chosen controller of the city of Philadelphia and twice governor of Pennsylvania, in the face of large adverse party majorities, he has demonstrated by his elections, that the people trust him and by his administration of those offices that their confidence was well founded.

Knowing him to be honest, able, unassuming, fearless, a consistent Democrat and in harmony with the highest purposes of his party, we present him for the nomination to the Democracy of the nation, confident that his declaration of principles and of our choice for the presidency express the sentiments of the united Democracy of the state and to that end that the vote of Pennsylvania may be most effectively and honestly cast.

Resolved, That the delegates-at-large this day elected shall have power to fill any vacancy that may occur by reason of the death or failure to act of any delegates selected from said congressional district.

THE SILVER MEN LOST.

Michigan Democratic Convention Captured by Sound Moneyites.

DETROIT, April 30.—Sound money had won a complete victory when the Michigan Democratic state convention adjourned. On the questions which were most closely contested this victory was accomplished by the narrow margin of 58 majority out of a total of some 800 votes. The administration men obtained the organization, adopted their resolutions entire and elected all their candidates for delegates-at-large and alternates.

James S. Gorman was permanent chairman.

The delegates-at-large chosen are: Elliott G. Stevenson, Thomas A. Wadock, Robert R. Blacher and Peter White.

The majority platform, which was adopted, commends President Cleveland's administration, especially as to its foreign policy, and urges aid to the Cuban patriots. The money plank is as follows:

On the finance question we recognize that this administration stands upon and has consistently carried out the national Democratic platform of '92, on which it was elected by the people, which decided that the parity of the metals in our currency shall be maintained.

The platform of the national convention, which has carried the country overwhelmingly for our party, should be the doctrine of the Democrats until a new platform is formed by another national convention. To the national convention to be held July 7, we remit this subject, with confidence in the wisdom and patriotism of that body.

An additional resolution condemns the A. P. A. and similar societies.

WALTHAM FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Mississippi Democrats Also Declare For Free Silver.

JACKSON, Miss., April 30.—Ex-Congressman Muldran presided as temporary and permanent chairman of the Democratic state convention.

The platform adopted favors the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the action or co-operation of any other nation and instructs the delegates to the national Democratic convention to vote for no man for president or vice president who is not fully and unequivocally in favor of the principles above expressed, and the unit rule is adopted. The delegates to Chicago are instructed to present the name of Hon. E. C. Waltham for the vice presidency.

Five delegates were nominated: A. J. McLaurin, H. D. Money, E. C. Waltham, J. Z. George and R. H. Henry.

NEBRASKA SOUND MONEYITES.

The Gold Democrats Hold Their Convention at Lincoln.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 30.—At the state convention of administration Democrats Mr. W. D. McHugh of Douglas county was made temporary chairman. The temporary organization was made permanent and the delegates-at-large were named by acclamation: Tobias Castor, Lancaster; William A. Paxton, Douglas; Dan W. Cook, Gage; Charles G. Ryan, Hall.

The resolutions indirectly denounce the A. P. A. One favors Cleveland's version of the Monroe doctrine. Free coinage is denounced and the free silver Democrats of the state termed "Populists."

Likely to Endorse McKinley.

PHOENIX, A. T., April 30.—Warring factions have held the territorial Republican convention at a standstill all day over contesting delegations, which was compromised. What is known as the Stoddard wing, in opposition to the McKinley wing, has control. They assert, however, that they are warm supporters of the Ohioan, and it is probable that the platform will endorse him.

The Alabama McKinleyites.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 30.—The McKinley convention remained in session all night and finally fused with the Populists. The failure of the McKinley faction to put out a sound money state ticket is a disappointment to many sound money Republicans.

BATTLE ROYAL NOW ON

McKinley and Cullom Forces
Fighting at Springfield, Ills.

A 300 POUND STATESMAN SLUGGER.

The Hon. Buck McCarthy of the Chicago Stockyards Stirring Up Things at a Lively Rate—A Riotous Convention at Atlanta—Other State Conventions.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., April 30.—It has not yet been decided whether the delegates-at-large to represent Illinois at the national convention will be instructed. The state convention nominated John R. Tanner for governor; W. A. Northcott for lieutenant governor, and then adjourned for the day. This was done in accordance with the plan mapped out by the so-called machine. Fully 12,000 people were in attendance. Permanent Chairman Berry made an eloquent speech.

Alderman Madden of Chicago was temporary chairman.

The convention, upon assembling this morning, proceeded to the nomination of a secretary of state, then an auditor, a treasurer and attorney general. According to the agreement between the "machine" leaders and the McKinley men the resolution instructing the national delegates-at-large to support a candidate at the national convention at St. Louis will soon be acted upon. From the present outlook there will probably be a very lively discussion over this question. But it cannot last long, as each side will be limited to 30 minutes' discussion. Then the matter will be put to a vote, and if the followers of Major McKinley have the strength they will instruct Illinois delegates-at-large to support him at St. Louis. The friends of Senator Shelby M. Cullom will do all in their power to prevent instructions for McKinley.

At the meeting of the delegates of the Second congressional district, the Hon. Buck McCarthy, the 300 pound statesman of the Chicago stockyards, became involved in a quarrel with William Webb, of the district central committee, about seats at the convention. Buck pulled a slingshot and attempted to strike his opponent. In an instant every man present was on his feet and a free fight ensued. Deputy Sheriff Morris Hayes drew a revolver and tried to use it, but was prevented. Then chairs were seized and scarcely a man came out without a battered head. One of Buck's eyes was blacked.

Buck also went into headquarters to get some tickets for his constituents. The tickets were not given to him, whereupon he thrust Chairman Jamieson to one side, picked up a big bunch of tickets and walked out of the room.

A RIOTOUS CONVENTION.

Negroes Try to Control the Georgia Republican Gathering and Bolt.

ATLANTA, April 30.—The Republican state convention after adopting a platform reaffirming the principles of the Republican party adjourned sine die. The financial plank declared strongly for sound money. The following delegates-at-large were chosen: A. E. Buck, J. H. Deveaux, H. A. Rucker and H. L. Johnson.

The first three are pledged to McKinley. Johnson is understood to favor Reed.

The negroes wanted R. R. Wright as one of the delegates-at-large and they howled and waved their arms and raved wildly as they pushed toward the speaker's stand.

As soon as the uproar began Chairman Buck yielded the gavel to Mr. Johnson and retired. The negroes swarmed about Mr. Johnson and shouted hoarsely in his ear as they shook their fists in his face. Mr. R. R. Wright yelled for the roll to be called. The police were called forward and cleared the speaker's stand. The tumult continued and as soon as the blue coats disappeared the mob surged again upon the chair, and Wright again mounted the stand. A regular riot followed. Chairman Johnson received a motion to elect the four delegates named, put the motion and declared it carried. He then left the stand.

The negroes then organized a convention of their own.

MCKINLEY VERMONT'S CHOICE.

The Delegates Go Uninstructed as a Convention to Reed.

MONTPELIER, Vt., April 30.—The Republican state convention, in a perfect furor of enthusiasm, declared its preference for McKinley as a presidential candidate by a separate resolution, but withheld instructions as to how the Vermont delegations should vote at the national convention. This latter action was the result of a compromise with the Reed men, whose desire for a declaration of McKinley men that in such an event the platform would surely declare for McKinley first, last and all the time to forestall any convention instructions.

The platform opposes the free coinage of silver. A resolution was adopted denouncing the injection of the influence of the A. P. A. into the Republican presidential campaign.

Tennessee Prohibition Convention.

NASHVILLE, April 30.—About 100 delegates attended the Prohibition convention. Rev. D. C. Kelley presiding as permanent chairman. Josephus Hopewood was nominated for governor. Eighteen delegates to the national convention at Pittsburg were elected. A resolution declaring for free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was defeated.

Double Murder Due to Jealousy.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 30.—Albert Rieulif, a mulatto, has shot and killed his wife and then killed himself. Jealously was the cause.

Upheld the Anti-Racing Law.

RICHMOND, April 30.—The court of appeals has upheld the validity of the Maupin anti-racing law.

DUE TO INCENDIARISM.

Second Fire About Wipes Out Cripple Creek, Colo.

FOUR KILLED AND 17 INJURED.

Thousands Are Homeless and In Need. A Special Relief Train Run From Denver—Unknown Man Shot Dead While Stealing From a Burning Building.

DENVER, April 30.—T. J. Moynahan, owner of the Portland hotel in which the second fire at Cripple Creek started, has called at the office of Superintendent Walpole of the state insurance department in this city and made a statement which, in the light of the events, is regarded as tending to show that the fire was of incendiary origin. Mr. Moynahan stated that $6,000 insurance was carried on one half of the furniture and that the furniture had cost but $800. It was leased to Benjamin Brewer, the lease to expire May 1.

A special train with supplies for the stricken people has been sent from here. Cripple Creek is practically wiped out. There is not a building left standing in the business section of the city. Only a few residences on the outskirts remain and thousands are homeless. A revised list of the dead and injured is as follows:

The dead are: J. Griffith, — Bassett and two others unidentified.

The injured are: E. H. Small, John Rice, E. Evans, George E. Youngstrom, George Leyden, fatally; John Krellger, fatally; E. H. Smith, superintendent of the water works; L. Manney, E. Bradley and eight others whose names are not yet learned.

By an explosion of dynamite on Third street 2 people were killed and 14 injured.

Many buildings were dynamited in a vain effort to stop the fire, but a high wind carried the flames on.

A special policeman shot and killed an unknown man found carrying away valuables from a burning building.

Fire in West Cripple Creek. GILLETTE, Colo., April 30.—The Cripple Creek fire has broken out afresh. It is now extending to West Cripple Creek and it is feared that this suburb will be entirely wiped out. The greatest confusion prevails. Free fights are the rule and nobody knows what will happen.

Teller and Sherman Speak. Opposing Advocates on Money Talk in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Two notable speeches by Senator Teller and Senator Sherman, representing opposing elements on the financial question, have been heard in the senate. Mr. Teller addressed himself particularly to the Ohio senator, contending the views held by him and maintaining that no honest effort had been made in the present congress to pass a tariff bill.

The senator referred in passing to the McKinley candidacy, saying that the motto of "Advance agent of Prosperity" was delusive, as no prosperity would come until financial conditions were reformed.

The climax of Mr. Teller's speech was reached when he announced that he would vote as he spoke, and that he would not hesitate to separate himself from the great party with which he has been allied for 40 years if it pronounced for the gold standard.

Mr. Sherman answered Mr. Teller, arguing against a 50-cent silver dollar and announcing that the time had come for a decisive opinion from the people. He appealed the case, he said, to the tribunal of the American people at the coming election. The early part of the day was given to speeches by Senators Vilas and Mitchell (Wis.), Palmer and Kyle, endorsing Pere Marquette, after which the resolution was adopted accepting the statue of Marquette presented by Wisconsin.

PRESIDENT KRUGER MERCIFUL. He Commutes the Death Sentence of Hammond and Others.

PRETORIA, April 30.—The sentence of death imposed upon Mr. John Hays Hammond, the American engineer; Colonel Francis Rhodes, a brother of the former premier at Cape Colony; Lionel Phillips, president of the chamber of mines at Johannesburg, and George Farrar, proprietor of Country Life at Johannesburg, have been commuted.

The prisoners will be heavily fined, receive long terms of imprisonment and be banished.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Presbyterian Women's Society in Session at Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 30.—The twenty-sixth annual assembly of the Philadelphia section, Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian church, is in session here with 100 delegates, representing Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and West Virginia. Mrs. C. P. Turner of Philadelphia presided. The report of Treasurer Mrs. J. M. Fishburn showed the total amount of money collected during the past year to be $140,945, which is $9,861 less than the preceding year.

The report of the foreign secretary was devoted to methods by which missionary work is carried on and the nature of the work in general.

A Good Defense. KENTON, O., April 30.—Marshal Griffith has received a telephone message from Morris Meyer, banker of Forest, to arrest Thomas Pisel, who would try to dispose of a forged note on A. D. Pifer, calling for $245, made payable to himself and signed by his father and grandmother. The man when arrested denied his guilt, alleging he could not write.

Injured by Strikers. CLEVELAND, April 30.—The first blood of the cloakmakers' strike has been shed here. Four hundred strikers attacked several non-union men and handled them very roughly. The patrol wagons with a large detail of officers were summoned and the men were finally released. Three men were badly injured.

FLORENCE PULLMAN MARRIED. She Gives Herself and Cash to a Chicago Lawyer.

CHICAGO, April 30.—The marriage of Miss Florence Pullman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Pullman, to Mr. Frank Orren Lowden, an attorney of this city, was solemnized last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, on Prairie avenue, in the presence of about 200 relatives and intimate friends.

The bride, a stately brunette, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Francis Carolan of San Francisco, Miss Felicite Oglesby, daughter of ex-Governor and Mrs. Richard J. Oglesby of Elkhart, Ills., Miss Florence Alger, daughter of ex-Governor and Mrs. Russell A. Alger of Detroit, Miss Bertha Weston of New York, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Florence Clark of this city. The bridal gown was of ivory duchesse satin fashioned after a court gown of ancient period.

The groom was attended by Mr. Henry L. Dawes of Pittsfield, Mass., as best man. Mr. Frank Hamlin, Mr. Kellogg Fairbank, Mr. Clarence Wooley, Mr. Walter Herrick, Mr. George Pullman and Mr. Sanger Pullman acted as ushers.

A reception, to which 2,000 invitations were issued, followed the wedding. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Lowden left for the east in Mr. Pullman's private car. Their future home will be in this city.

SCOTT JACKSON'S DEFENSE.

His Witnesses Now to Be Examined. The Prosecution Done.

NEWPORT, Ky., April 30.—The commonwealth has announced that it has closed its testimony in the Jackson trial. The defense waived the usual custom in such cases in Kentucky courts of stating to the jury what it proposed to show. The court thereupon adjourned for the day. Attorney Crawford for the defense says he will have about 45 witnesses and about 25 depositions to offer. This, with the arguments will carry the case into next week.

The last witness for the commonwealth, and the one who was kept on the stand the longest, was Colonel Phil Deitch, superintendent of the Cincinnati police. His testimony was contested at every point and much of it was ruled out as inadmissible. What was accepted as competent has all been included in the story of the case during the week following the murder of Pearl Bryan. The court excluded everything of this testimony as to what Walling said in the presence of Jackson which Jackson did not admit. That excluded all testimony of this class by Mayor Caldwell as well as by Colonel Deitch.

The colonel's testimony was accepted as to Jackson's alarm when arrested and his exclamation "Oh! my God what will my poor mother say," repeating this twice walking the floor part of the time. Jackson's admission to the colonel that the bloody value was Pearl Bryan's and that he took her clothing out of it and threw it into the river was accepted in evidence.

Mrs. Scithers, who lives on the Licking pike and comes to Newport on foot every day, testified that about 8 o'clock on the morning of Friday, Jan. 31, she met Jackson and Walling on the road over which the negro Jackson drove the coach with Walling, Jackson and Pearl Bryan.

Dot Legner, son of John W. Legner, at whose saloon Scott Jackson left Pearl Bryan's valise, said he handled the valise on Sunday morning and it was very heavy; that he handled it on Monday again and it was very light. The inference is that on Sunday it contained the head and that on Sunday night Jackson took it away to dispose of the head and returned it empty on Monday.

Dr. Edwin Freeman of the Cincinnati Electric Medical college said that the conditions clearly showed that the head was amputated when Pearl Bryan was alive and that her death was caused by the amputation.

Jackson's accusation of Walling as the murderer of Pearl Bryan was also accepted. The colonel said Jackson sent him to have these talks with him and was admonished by the mayor that he need not talk unless he chose to do so.

AMERICAN SCHOONER CAPTURED. Spanish Gunboat Runs Down a Filibustering Expedition.

HAVANA, April 30.—The Spanish gunboat Mensagera has captured and brought into this port the American schooner Competitor of Key West, loaded with arms and ammunition believed to be intended for the insurgents.

It appears that the expedition was an important one. A number of the filibusters are said to have succeeded in jumping overboard and swimming ashore. Others, however, who jumped into the sea were drowned. It also seems that the insurgent general, Monzon, was a member of the expedition.

Lieutenant Commander Bouton of the Mensagera will be rewarded by the government for his capture of the Competitor.

The filibusters who succeeded in getting ashore, either by swimming or other means, opened fire from the swamps on the gunboat which was assisting the government force on shore, and the warship replied, killing three of the party.

Cloudburst in Wisconsin. SHEBOYGAN, Wis., April 30.—Residences in the lowlands have been inundated by a cloudburst to such a depth that the police and fire departments had to use boats in rescuing the women and children. Many people had narrow escapes from death. The loss of property will foot up thousands of dollars.

Tom Meade Touched For $6,000. LEXINGTON, Ky., April 30.—Tom Meade, the well-known bookmaker of Cincinnati, was touched for $6,000 in the grandstand before the second race here. The police think they know the man, and expect to capture the thief. Meade is one of the best known sporting men in the country.

The House Session. WASHINGTON, April 30.—The house spent the day in further discussion of the bankruptcy bill. Mr. Connolly (Rep., Ills.) spoke in favor of the measure and W. A. Stone (Rep., Pa.), Mr. Newland (silverite, Nev.) and Mr. Broderick (Rep., Kan.) in opposition to it.

A Body Found in the River. CINCINNATI, April 30.—The body of Alexander Knopf, a prominent merchant of Bay City, Mich., has been found in the Ohio river near this city. The body was identified by papers found on it.

SOME ANIMAL HUNTERS. Strategy by Which California Coyotes Ran Down a Jack Rabbit.

An Indian will often take a deer's trail, when deer are scarce, and follow it for days, preventing the deer from feeding or resting and making it so weary and careless that in the end he kills it by a shot at short range. Probably the Indians first learned to follow a deer in this fashion from observing the habits of wolves, panthers and other wild and tireless trailers of game.

The coyote is not so strong a wolf as its big gray cousin in Maine and other wolf countries. Nevertheless he has been known to run the jack rabbit down as surely as death, but in a more expeditious way than the Maine animal adopted. Whether it is a habit or not of the coyotes to run jack rabbits in pairs cannot be said for certain, but a story was told some time ago in a well known sportsman's paper which, being backed by a similar story of English foxes, has every appearance of being truthful.

The two coyotes were seen to jump a rabbit one day out in California on a mesa. One of the coyotes took after it on the dead jump, the other trotted to a near by rise and lay down, with its nose on its paws, knowing that the rabbit would surely circle. Pretty soon along came the jack rabbit with the other coyote behind, both going full tilt. Up jumped the waiting coyote, and away it went after the rabbit, while the other dropped out of the chase and waited, as its companion had done, to take the trail on the rabbit's return. It was not long before the rabbit was exhausted by the strategy and endurance of both the animals of prey and soon fell an easy victim to be eaten by both the hunters.

J. B. Bennett of Brooklyn saw a fox early one morning lying beside the open, narrow gate of a rabbit proof fence that surrounded a 40 acre plantation not far from the Marquis of Queensberry's game preserve in Scotland. Looking over into the enclosure, he saw another fox chasing the rabbits that had entered the open gate to get at the cabbages there. The rabbits—eight or ten of them—were headed for the gate and running like "cutty sarks." When one plunged through the gateway, the fox lying alongside it leaped and had it by the back of the neck in a jiffy. Then the foxes tore the rabbit to pieces and "enjoyed the feast like honest sportsmen."—New York Sun.

Mechanical skill of no ordinary character is required to produce the hollow steel boom, the spar which has now become so noted in marine architecture, advantage being gained, in exigencies, by beginning in the center and riveting the plates toward both ends. ## PROGRESSING.

Increased State of Activity at the New Bridge.

A glance at the progress of the new bridge shows an increased state of activity, and it is at once apparent that the company are determined to push the work to completion, and have the river spanned by the allotted time, barring unavoidable and unforeseen accidents that might impede progress. The company are alive to the fact that they are liable to the forfeiture of a heavy bond if the work is not completed by the time designated.

Tuesday afternoon a massive crane,
with a boom of great length, was unloaded by the steamer Hornet, at the foot of Market street, to be used in the work of lifting the great blocks of stone that will form the river piers.
An immense cofferdam is being made in readiness to be placed into position for the erection of the third pier.

The construction of the bridge at Rochester is farther advanced than the local one. All the piers are in course of erection and the large anchors are about finished. The work so far has resulted in a death and serious accident, while no misfortune of note has been met here.

The falling of the river will greatly facilitate progress, and the contractors are expecting a drought.

The removal of the Barker residence is progressing finely and the building is clear of its former foundation. The contractor expects to have the building on the new lot before the end of the week.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured.
He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. They boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. Fifty cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THAT BIRD.

A Glasgow Resident Says That a Local Sheet Erred.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—The Crisis
has misrepresented and exaggerated, as usual, in reporting about a blue heron bird that I captured. It states that Phil McLean, of Wellsville, shot the bird on his farm in Madison township, and that it was eight feet from tip to tip of wings. The exact measurement is six feet from tip to tip and five feet high. The bird was shot on the farm of Phil McLean, near Glasgow. It had made regular trips morning and evening to a fish pond and was always successful in getting a meal. The bird was very shy and had to be shot on the wing.

I must say in closing that I honor the stand taken by the NEWS REVIEW on the side of morality and good government, particularly the Bible-in-the-schools question. Go right on with the good work, and I will help by remaining a regular subscriber to your ever welcome paper.

THE COMBINE MET.

But the Result of the Meeting Was Not Learned.

The big Central Sewerpipe combine held a meeting at Toronto yesterday, and a rumor was current that they would dissolve. The combine consists of 22 factories, mostly located in the Ohio valley, embracing the works at New Cumberland, Toronto Empire, Urbichville and this city. It is said there has been considerable dissatisfaction among the members, which would be hard to patch up, although until recently the company has been in a very prosperous condition. A number of firms sent in a notice of withdrawal, including P. Connors, Calumet, Empire, Great Western and Forest City.

A reporter was sent to the office of Knowles, Taylor & Anderson this afternoon, but the company did not have a representative at the meeting, and had nothing for publication.

ARE TOO SMALL.

New Switch Boards are Required by the Telephone Company.

The Bell Telephone company have so enlarged their business in the city and Wellsville in the last few weeks that they are compelled to put in new switch boards in both cities, the old boards being too small to do the work required of them. The new board is being put in Wellsville today by Manager Gilchrist and his force of men, under the direction of William Pease, of Pittsburg, the company's electrician. The one that is to be used here will be put in on Saturday, and everything will be in first class shape for the new rush of business the company have experienced recently.

A MONSTER GERANIUM

Is Exhibited in an East End Show Window.

Charles Finney, of East End, is the proud possessor of the largest ger-anium ever seen in this section of the country. The geranium measures eight feet high and is five feet across the top, while it contains over 30 bunches of flowers and 60 buds.
The flower is grown from one root and is planted in a small ewer, and is being exhibited in a show window in East End. The plant is a curiosity from the fact that it is one of ordinary species, and was raised from a cutting by Mr. Finney, who had no idea that it would ever grow to be such a giant.

Married Yesterday.

James Webb and Miss Julia Baxter, both of Hancock county, West Virginia, were married in this city, yesterday at noon, by Father Smyth. The groom is very well known here and has many friends, while the bride is one of Hancock county's most estimable ladies. The marriage is somewhat of a surprise to their friends as it was totally unexpected.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. Twenty-five and 50 cent

Reduction in Wheels.

wheel market this afternoon. Will Rex purchased two wheels for $125 each. By the expenditure of a few (2) dollars the bicycles can be made as good as new. All that is necessary is new wheels, frames, pedals, cranks, etc. The coasters are in fair condition.

Getting Better.

ment, is at present in Beaver Falls,
and is improving daily.

Checkers at the rink.

Even Blacksmiths,
who are supposed
to represent great
strength and perfect
health, are likely to die of consumption.
Mere muscularity
isn't always health.
Disease will develop rapidly once let the
germs of consumption get into a man's system, and it will kill him certainly and surely if he doesn't take the proper
measures to get rid of it. Exercise and work and dieting and all that sort of thing
are good enough in their way, but consumption is one of the things that they won't cure. The bacterium of consumption is a living organism. It is infinitesimal, but it is alive. The only way to get rid of it is to kill it. If it isn't killed, it will develop and multiply. Germs are wonderfully prolific. In the quickest imaginable time, one becomes a thousand.
It not only kills disease, but it builds up health. It is a tonic, a nerve, or nerve-food, or invigorator and blood-pu-rifier, all in one bottle.

If you want to know all of the facts about this wonderful remedy—if you want to know all about the human body, and human health, and sickness and how to get rid of it, send for Dr.
Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a standard work, profusely illustrated, which will be sent free on receipt of 21
one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. This work is a complete family doctor book and should be read by both young and old. The profits on the sale of 600,000 copies at $1.50 has rendered possible this free edition. Address, World's Dis-

Cyrus Field's Advice to Garrett.

When young Bob Garrett took it upon himself to run the earth, after he became president of the Baltimore and Ohio, he started the Baltimore and Ohio sleeping car system, the Baltimore and Ohio Express company and the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company. One day he ran across Cyrus Field in New York, and the old financier took him in hand.

"Robert," he said, "your father and I were friends during his lifetime, and I don't want to see you ruin the great property he built up. But you are starting out well to do it. No man in the world can do what you have started out to do—fight the Pennsylvania railroad with your railroad, fight the Western Union Telegraph company with your telegraph company, fight Pullman's Palace Car company with your sleeping car company, and the Adams Express company with your express company.
My boy"—laying his hand affectionately on Bob's shoulder—"you are going to ruin yourself. No one concern can hope to make a successful fight against four such corporations as those. They will wreck you!"—New York Press.

(Ordinance No. 492.)
T and protection of the Fire Department.
Section 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, That there shall be appointed in and for this city biennially by the first regular meeting of the council held after the second Monday of April, or as soon thereafter as practical and for the purpose of filling vacancies, inuring such after this ordinance shall take effect, in the manner provided by law, one fire chief of the fire department, who shall be an active member of the fire department and shall have served from three to five years as a member of the fire department. The fire chief so appointed shall give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00) for the faithful performance of his duties. The fire chief shall appoint an assistant fire chief, who shall give bond in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for the faithful performance of his duties.

Sec. 2. The fire chief shall establish two grades of firemen—first and second grade.
The number of men or firemen in each grade to be fixed by the council upon the recommendation of the fire chief and fire committee. The firemen in each grade shall be appointed by the fire chief and graded according to qualification and shall be able-bodied men, not to exceed fifty years of age and temperate in habits. All applicants subject to examination by city physician. The application is made to the fire chief for appointment. All members of either grade to serve during good behavior or until discharged.
Written complaint may be made by fire chief against any fireman for neglect of duty or improper conduct, which must be investigated by fire committee, and the fire chief may suspend any such person so charged pending investigation. And in case of removal or discharge, such vacancy, such vacancy to be filled from the second grade.
The fire chief shall have power to call any assistants if he deems it necessary to assist in handling the apparatus, and as compensation for such services such person or persons shall each receive 50 cents an hour for active services.

Sec. 3. All members of the fire department of the first grade shall give bond in the sum of $500.00 and shall have and exercise all police power, as conferred by the law and ordinances of said city, and subject to police duty within three squares of the station, under direction of fire chief and mayor, but not to exceed six hours duty per day.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of said fire chief to examine carefully and at all times during the year, whenever occasion requires it, every house, store, shop, mill, building or premises whatever, and at all places for the keeping and deposit of ashes, and to remove or abate, or cause to be removed or abated, in case of neglect or refusal of the owner or occupant of the premises, any cause from which immediate danger from fire may be apprehended, and he shall give to the proper owner or owners or occupant of any premises such directions to remove, abate or repair, as he may deem necessary to avoid danger from fire, and any person refusing or failing to obey any reasonable order or direction of such officer within 10 days after notice, shall be guilty of an offense, and shall be fined thereby by the mayor in any sum not to exceed $50.00 and costs.

Sec. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with or injure in any manner, any fire engine, hose reel, hook and ladder,
ladder, bucket, pail, or any other apparatus, poles and fire alarm boxes, or any other apparatus or any property connected with the fire department, the property of the city, nor shall any person or persons purposely give any false alarm of fire, or mislead any member of the department as to the location of existence of fire. Any person violating any provision of this section shall on conviction thereof before the mayor be fined in any sum not more than $50.00 and costs of prosecution.

Sec. 6. The fire chief and the committee on fire department, shall prepare a systematic set of rules and regulations necessary in the control and management of the fire department in all its parts, and present the same for approval to the council, the whole or part of which if approved by it shall have the same force and effect as other ordinances of the city, and it is hereby made the duty of the fire chief of the fire department to carry out and enforce the rules so and from time to time thereafter adopted.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the fire chief to be present at all fires, and give all orders and directions to his assistant and firemen, and in case of the absence of the fire chief, the assistant fire chief shall assume and perform (during such absence) all and singular the duties imposed upon his superior officer, and shall have the same powers as are conferred upon his or their superior officer, by this ordinance and the rules hereafter adopted.

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to drive with any vehicle, car or locomotive over any of the hose when laid in any of the streets or alleys for the service or exercise, or for any person to step on the hose, or use any act to damage or injure the same. Any person found guilty before the mayor of such an act shall pay a fine of not more than $25.00 and costs.

Sec. 9. The fire chief shall be subject to such rules and regulations as may be adopted from time to time for the government of the city fire department, and perform all duties that may be required of him by the city council, or the standing committee of fire department, and shall be subject to the directions of said standing committee on fire department, and take charge and have control of all fire apparatus, reservoirs and property of the fire department. And he shall keep the hose, hose carriages, hook and ladder, and hook and ladder carriages and all parts of the fire department, and perform all duties repair and in good working order. He shall report monthly to the council the condition of all property of the fire department, and all apparatus belonging or in any way used for the extinguishment of fires, and suggest any alterations, repairs or needed apparatus which he deemed necessary, and he shall make an annual report to the council at the last regular meeting of March of the condition of the fire department, and all property thereof and the public reservoirs and all other works constructed for the extinguishment of fires.

Sec. 10. The fire chief shall receive for his services the sum of $750.00 per annum, and the assistant fire chief shall receive for his services the sum of $500.00 per annum; the firemen of the first grade shall each receive the sum of $600.00 per annum, and the firemen of the second grade the sum of $540.00 per annum; and said above mentioned salaries shall be payable monthly.

Sec. 11. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed; and this ordinance shall take effect from and after its legal passage and publication.

"THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE"

IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE.
Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life, Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure this Wonderful Little Book Called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

"Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work wonders with this generation of men."
The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor, and my new self a method by which to end all unnatural trains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despendency, etc.
To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.
To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone
to every portion and organ of the body.
Age no barrier. Failure impossible.
The book is purely medical and scientific, unlike the countless "quack" books. Refer only who need it.

A despairing man, who had applied to us,
soon after wrote:
"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way!"

And another thus:
"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."
Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY
Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD," and the company will send you the book, in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is well introduced.

PROGRESSING.

Increased State of Activity at the New Bridge.

A glance at the progress of the new bridge shows an increased state of activity, and it is at once apparent that the company are determined to push the work to completion, and have the river spanned by the allotted time, barring unavoidable and unforeseen accidents that might impede progress. The company are alive to the fact that they are liable to the forfeiture of a heavy bond if the work is not completed by the time designated.

Tuesday afternoon a massive crane, with a boom of great length, was unloaded by the steamer Hornet, at the foot of Market street, to be used in the work of lifting the great blocks of stone that will form the river piers. An immense cofferdam is being made in readiness to be placed into position for the erection of the third pier.

The construction of the bridge at Rochester is farther advanced than the local one. All the piers are in course of erection and the large anchors are about finished. The work so far has resulted in a death and serious accident, while no misfortunes of note have been met here.

The falling of the river will greatly facilitate progress, and the contractors are expecting a drought.

The removal of the Harker residence is progressing finely and the building is clear of its former foundation. The contractor expects to have the building on the new lot before the end of the week.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth company, Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders, read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both sick in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me; he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. ## THAT BIRD.

A Glasgow Resident Says That a Local Sheet Erred.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—The Crisis has misrepresented and exaggerated, as usual, in reporting about a blue heron bird that I captured. It states that Phil McLean, of Wellsville, shot the bird on his farm in Madison township, and that it was eight feet from tip to tip of wings. The exact measurement is six feet from tip to tip and five feet high. The bird was shot on the farm of Phil McLean, near Glasgow. It had made regular trips morning and evening to a fish pond and was always successful in getting a meal. The bird was very shy and had to be shot on the wing.

I must say in closing that I honor the stand taken by the NEWS REVIEW on the side of morality and good government, particularly the Bible-in-the-schools question. Go right on with the good work, and I will help by remaining a regular subscriber to your ever welcome paper.

This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. ## THE COMBINE MET.

But the Result of the Meeting Was Not Learned.

The big Central Sewerpipe combine held a meeting at Toronto yesterday, and a rumor was current that they would dissolve. The combine consists of 22 factories, mostly located in the Ohio valley, embracing the works at New Cumberland, Toronto Empire, Uhrichsville and this city. It is said there has been considerable dissatisfaction among the members, which would be hard to patch up, although until recently the company has been in a very prosperous condition. A number of firms sent in a notice of withdrawal, including P. Connors, Calumet, Empire, Great Western and Forest City.

A reporter was sent to the office of Knowles, Taylor & Anderson this afternoon, but the company did not have a representative at the meeting, and had nothing for publication.

ARE TOO SMALL.

New Switch Boards are Required by the Telephone Company.

The Bell Telephone company have so enlarged their business in the city and Wellsville in the last few weeks that they are compelled to put in new switch boards in both cities, the old boards being too small to do the work required of them. The new board is being put in Wellsville today by Manager Glichrist and his force of men, under the direction of William Pease, of Pittsburg, the company's electrician. The one that is to be used here will be put in on Saturday, and everything will be in first class shape for the new rush of business the company have experienced recently.

A MONSTER GERANIUM

Is Exhibited in an East End Show Window.

Charles Finney, of East End, is the proud possessor of the largest geranium ever seen in this section of the country. The geranium measures eight feet high and is five feet across the top, while it contains over 30 bunches of flowers and has 60 buds. The flower is grown from one root and is planted in a small ewer, and is being exhibited in a show window in East End. The plant is a curiosity from the fact that it is one of ordinary species, and was raised from a cutting by Mr. Finney, who had no idea that it would ever grow to be such a giant.

Married Yesterday.

James Webb and Miss Julia Baxter, both of Hancock county, West Virginia, were married in this city, yesterday at noon, by Father Smyth. The groom is very well known here and has many friends, while the bride is one of Hancock county's most estimable ladies. The marriage is somewhat of a surprise to their friends as it was totally unexpected.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Artists Galore.

There are fascinating female artists galore with the enormous Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' aggregation, and among them, conspicuous in form and grace, eight ladies, who, posing upon a great revolving pedestal, reproduce with marvelous and fascinating accuracy the famous statuary and paintings of ancient and modern times.

A Brutal Mother.

Trustee Lloyd is investigating today a case of extreme cruelty said to have been perpetrated on a child by an inhuman mother, whom it is said, beats her offspring frequently in a shameful manner. Yesterday, neighbors say, that she held the child in the corner and struck it repeatedly over the head with a chain.

Reduction in Wheels.

There was a decided drop in the wheel market this afternoon. Will Rex purchased two wheels for $125 each. By the expenditure of a few (?) dollars the bicycles can be made as good as new. All that is necessary is new wheels, frames, pedals, cranks, etc. The coasters are in fair condition.

Getting Better.

The little child of Jesse Hunter that was sent to Pittsburg for treatment, is at present in Beaver Falls, and is improving daily.

Checkers at the rink.

Even Blacksmiths, who are supposed to represent great strength and perfect health, are likely to die of consumption. Mere muscularity isn't always health. Disease will develop rapidly once let the germs of consumption get into a man's system, and it will kill him certainly and surely if he doesn't take the proper measures to get rid of it. Exercise and work and dieting and all that sort of thing are good enough in their way, but consumption is one of the things that won't cure. The bacillus of consumption is a living organism. It is infinitesimal, but it is alive. The only way to get rid of it is to kill it. If it isn't killed, it will develop and multiply. Germs are wonderfully prolific. In the quickest imaginable time, one becomes a thousand and a thousand a million. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a germ hunter and a germ killer. Wherever a disease germ lurks in the body, the "Discovery" will find it—it will render it harmless. It doesn't kill. It not only kills disease, but it builds up health. It is a tonic, a nerve, or nerve-food, or invigorator and blood-purifier, all in one bottle.

If you want to know all of the facts about this remedy, if you want to know all about the human body, and human health, and sickness and how to get rid of it, send for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Discovery. This work of root pages, profusely illustrated, which will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. This work is a complete family doctor book and should be read by both young and old. The profits on the sale of 650,000 copies at $1.50 has rendered possible this free offer. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cyrus Field's Advice to Garrett.

When young Bob Garrett took it upon himself to run the earth, after he became president of the Baltimore and Ohio, he started the Baltimore and Ohio sleeping car system, the Baltimore and Ohio Express company and the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company. One day he ran across Cyrus Field in New York, and the old financier took him in hand.

"Robert," he said, "your father and I were friends during his lifetime, and I don't want to see you ruin the great property he built up. But you are starting out well to do it. No man in the world can do what you have started out to do—fight the Pennsylvania railroad with your railroad, fight the Western Union Telegraph company with your telegraph company, fight Pullman's Palace Car company with your sleeping car company, and the Adams Express company with your express company. My boy"—laying his hand affectionately on Bob's shoulder—"you are going to ruin yourself. No one can hope to make a successful fight against four such corporations as those. They will wreck you!"—New York Press.

TO PROVIDE FOR THE ORGANIZATION and protection of the Fire Department. Section 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, That there shall be appointed in and for this city annually at the first regular meeting of the council held after the second Monday of April, or as soon thereafter as practical and for the purpose of filling vacancies, immediately after this ordinance shall take effect, in the manner provided by law, one fire chief of the fire department, who shall be an active member of the fire department and shall have served from three to five years as a member of the fire department. The fire chief so appointed shall give bond in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1000.00) for the faithful performance of his duties. The fire chief shall appoint an assistant fire chief, who shall give bond in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for the faithful performance of his duties.

Sec. 2. The fire chief shall establish two grades of firemen—first and second grade. The number of men or firemen in each grade to be fixed by the council upon the recommendation of the fire chief and fire committee. The firemen in each grade to be appointed by the fire chief and graded according to qualification and shall be able-bodied men, not to exceed fifty years of age and temperate in habits. All applicants subject to examination by city physician when application is made to the fire chief for appointment. All members of either grade to serve during good behavior or until discharged. Written complaint may be made by fire chief against any fireman for neglect of duty or improper conduct, which must be investigated by fire committee, and the fire chief may suspend any such person so charged pending investigation. Any cause of removal or vacancies in first grade, such vacancy to be filled from the second grade. The fire chief shall have power to call day assistants if he deems it necessary to assist in handling the apparatus, and as compensation for such services such person or persons shall each receive 50 cents an hour for active services.

Sec. 3. All members of the fire department of the first grade shall give bond in the sum of $500.00, and shall have and exercise all police power, as conferred by the law and ordinances of said city, and subject to police duty within three squares of fire station, under direction of fire chief and mayor, but not to exceed six hours duty per day.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of said fire chief to examine carefully and at all times during the year, whenever occasion requires it, every house, store, shop, mill, building or premises whatever, and at all places for the keeping and deposit of ashes, and to remove or cause to be removed or abated, in case of neglect or refusal of the owner, or occupant of the premises, any cause from which immediate danger from fire may be apprehended, and he shall give to the proper owner or owners or occupant of any premises such directions to remove, abate or repair, as he may deem necessary to avoid danger from fire, and any person refusing or failing to obey any reasonable order or direction of such officer within 10 days after notice, shall be guilty of an offense, and shall be fined therefor by the mayor in any sum not to exceed $50 and costs.

Sec. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with or injure in any manner, any fire engine, hose reel, hook and ladder wagon, hose, harness, hose, telescopic poles and fire alarm boxes, or any other apparatus or any property connected with the fire department, the property of the city, or shall any person or persons purposely give any false alarm of fire, or mislead any member of the department as to the location or existence of fire. Any person violating any provision of this section shall on conviction thereof before the mayor be fined in any sum not more than $50.00 and costs of prosecution.

Sec. 6. The fire chief and the committee on fire department, shall prepare a systematic set of rules and regulations necessary in the control and management of the fire department in all its parts, and present the same for approval to the council, the whole or part of which if approved by it shall have the same force and effect as other ordinances of the city, and it is hereby made the duty of the fire chief of the fire department to carry out and enforce the rules so and from time to time thereafter adopted.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the fire chief to be present at all fires, and give all orders and directions to his assistant and firemen, and in case of the absence of the fire chief, the assistant fire chief shall assume and perform during such absence all and singular the duties imposed upon his superior officer, and shall have the same powers as are conferred upon his or their superior officer, by this ordinance and the rules hereafter adopted.

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to drive with any vehicle, car, locomotive over any of the hose when laid in any of the streets or alleys for the service or exercise, or for any person to step on the same or cause any act to damage or injure the same. Any person found guilty before the council of such an act shall pay a fine of not more than $25.00 and costs.

Sec. 9. The fire chief shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as may be adopted from time to time for the government of the city fire department, and perform all duties that may be required of him by the city council, or the standing committee of the department, and shall be subject to the directions of said standing committee on fire department, and take charge and have control of all fire apparatus, reservoirs and property of said department. And he shall keep the hose, hose carriages, hook and ladder, and all parts of the property of the department in complete repair and in good working order. He shall report monthly to the council the condition of all property of the fire department, and all apparatus belonging or in any way used for the extinguishing of fires, and suggest any alterations, repairs or needed apparatus by him deemed necessary, and he shall make a full report to the council at the next regular meeting of March of the condition of the fire department, and all property thereof works constructed for the extinguishing of fires.

Sec. 10. The fire chief shall receive for his services the sum of $750.00 per annum, and the assistant fire chief shall receive for his services the sum of $500.00 per annum; the firemen of the first grade shall each receive the sum of $600.00 per annum, and the firemen of the second grade the sum of $540.00 per annum; said said above mentioned salaries shall be payable monthly.

Sec. 11. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed; and this ordinance shall take effect from and after its legal passage and publication.

Passed this 25th day of April, 1896.

JOHN J. PURINTON,

CUPID AND PSYCHE

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despondency, etc.
To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.
To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.
To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.
Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.
The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men only who need it.
A despairing man, who had applied to us, soon after wrote:
"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. Just brimmed with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would find it this way?"
And another thus:
"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such gladness into my life as your method has done."
Write to the ERIE MEDICAL COMPANY Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book, in sealed envelope, without any marks, and entirely free, until it is well into demand.
